

S.No	Question	Answer Options
1	Fill in the blank : On a very cold winter night water vapour condenses and freezes on cold objects into ice crystals. This is called _____.	Fog	<input type="checkbox"/>
		Snow	<input type="checkbox"/>
		Sleet	<input type="checkbox"/>
		Frost	<input type="checkbox"/>
2	Fill in the blank : The amount of water vapour present in the air is called _____.	Evaporation	<input type="checkbox"/>
		Condensation	<input type="checkbox"/>
		Humidity	<input type="checkbox"/>
		Gaseous	<input type="checkbox"/>

3

What happens to water vapour?

It Remains In The Same State

It Condenses Into Tiny Droplets Of Water

It Becomes Solid

None Of The Above

4

Fill in the blanks : Water changes its state of _____ with change in temperature.

Answer

5

State if the following statement is TRUE or FALSE : Dew is formed due to the condensation of water vapour.

True

False

Correct Answer is

1. Correct Ans option is Frost
2. Correct Ans option is Humidity
3. Correct Ans option is It Condenses Into Tiny Droplets Of Water
4. Correct Answer is matter
5. Correct Ans option is True